Brutus

Robust but inviting to bring us closer together

Discover Brutus, an eco-conscious bench collection that epitomizes the perfect fusion of sustainability and style. Brutus firmly holds its ground with a robust base crafted from 100% recycled household plastic, showcasing our commitment to environmental responsibility.

The bench features a classic and elegant design, utilizing bamboo — a timeless material known for its durability and aesthetic appeal. Choose from options with or without a backrest to suit your preferences. Moreover, Brutus offers the flexibility to seamlessly pair with the Torben table, providing a cohesive and stylish ensemble for your space.

Join us in embracing sustainability without compromise — each piece in the Brutus Bench Collection is crafted from recycled household plastics, offering not only comfort but also a step towards a more sustainable future.

Materials

The seating of the Brutus benches and the top of the Torben table are made from bamboo, treated with a water resistant coating. Bamboo ensures that the seats feel warm and soft, for optimum seating comfort. It is flexible, solid and pleasant to touch. It will age in its specific way.

The base consists of 100% recycled PMD. So it could be that you once drank from a bottle of which this bench is made.
